

18th Czech and Slovak Conference on Magnetism

7 – 11 July, 2025, High Tatras, Slovak Republic

It is with great pleasure that the organizing committee of the CSMAG'25 invites you to a special presentation.

Come and spend an unforgettable time with Miki Knižka, the experienced hut keeper and mountain guide at Zbojnická Chalet. He will share his unique expertise and stories with us.

The presentation will take place on Wednesday, July 9, 2025 at 20:30 as part of an event combined with dinner.

Miki Knižka is founder of Mountain Pro Guiding. Adventurer, skier, alpinist with over 10 years of exploring in Canada, ascents to many peaks of South and North America, and various ski touring adventures around the world and in our High Tatras.

Since childhood, Miki has wandered along the trails in the Tatras, where in addition to the beautiful nature, the mountain sherpas (porters) have won his admiration. His dream came true when he was 17, when his first delivery was to Téry's Hut. Being a sherpa was everything to him. The best thing is that he manages to fulfill his dreams in his personal and family life. Those in the mountains are the icing on the cake:

- 5 x Sherpa Rally winner
- Multiple podium finishes in ski mountaineering races in North America
- Mount McKinley (Denali) – Messner Couloir and West Buttress
- Multi-day ski mountaineering traverses in Canada – Pemberton Icecap traverse, Misty Icefield traverse, McBride traverse, Bugaboos traverse, Bostock-Revelstoke traverse
- During the expedition in South America: climbing the peaks of Artesonraju, Chopicalqui, Huayna Potosi, Parinacota, Quitaraju, Ranrapalca, Sajama, Tocllaraju, Ishinca, Vallunaraju, Pequeno Alpmayo.

in cooperation with the National
Contact Point XFEL and ERI

NCPXFEL